This Day, the First Day of June

Memorial of Saint Justin, martyr, who, a philosopher, followed wholly the true wisdom recognized in the truth of Christ, and affirmed it by his conduct, taught what he affirmed, defended it by writings, and fulfilled it with death at Rome under the emperor Marcus Aurelius Antoninus. For when he had presented an Apology on behalf of the Christian religion to the emperor and had been handed over before the prefect Rusticus, he professed himself to be a Christian and was condemned to death by beheading.

2. In the same place, the Saints Chariton and Charites, Evelpistus and Hierax, Peonus and Liberianus, martyrs, who, disciples of the same Justin, together with him received the glorious crown.

3. At Alexandria in Egypt, the holy martyrs Ammon, Zeno, Ptolemy, Ingen, soldiers, and Theophilus, an old man, who, standing by the tribunals, when a certain Christian, placed under torture, was faltering and almost inclined to deny, attempted to strengthen him by look, eye, and gesture. And when, for this reason, a cry of the whole crowd rose up against them, rushing into the midst they declared that they were Christians; through whose victory Christ, who had given to His own that steadfastness of soul, triumphed most gloriously.

4. Likewise at Lycopolis in Egypt, the holy martyrs Ischyron, a military commander, and five other soldiers, who, by order of the prefect Arrianus under the emperor Decius, were slain by various kinds of death for the faith of Christ.

5. At Bologna in Emilia, Saint Proculus, martyr, who for Christian truth was pierced with nails from wooden beams.

6. At Montefalco in Umbria, Saint Fortunatus, priest, who, as is reported, poor himself, aided the poor by constant labor and gave his life for his brethren.

7. On the island of Lérins in Provence, Saint Caprasius, hermit, who withdrew there with Saint Honoratus and began the monastic life.

8. At Clermont in Aquitaine, Saint Florus, from whom the monastery raised over his tomb took its name, as well as the city and episcopal see.

9. In Brittany, Saint Ronan, bishop, who crossed over from Ireland and led an eremitical life in the woods.

10. In the region of Leicester in England, Saint Wistan, martyr, who, of the royal lineage of the Mercians, because he opposed the incestuous marriage of his mother the regent, was killed by the sword of a tyrant.

June 2nd

The holy martyrs Marcellinus, priest, and Peter, exorcist, who, as Pope Saint Damasus relates, while the persecution of the emperor Diocletian was raging, were condemned to death by beheading and led to the place of execution through thick brambles, and, so that their bodies might remain hidden from all, were ordered to dig their own grave with their own hands; but a pious woman, Lucilla, arranged their holy remains in the cemetery at the Two Laurels on the Labican Way at Rome.

2. At Lyons in France, the holy martyrs Pothinus, bishop, and Blandina, with forty-six companions,¹ whose brave and repeated contests, in the time of the emperor Marcus Aurelius, are recorded in a letter of the Church of Lyons to the Churches of Asia and Phrygia. Among these, Pothinus the bishop, a ninety-year-old man, having been taken into prison, soon afterward gave up his spirit; others likewise perished in prison, but others were set up in the middle of the arena before countless thousands of people gathered for the spectacle: those who were found to be Roman citizens were executed by beheading, while the others were handed over to beasts. Finally, Blandina, having been subjected to longer and more bitter contests, was at last slain by the sword, and followed the others whom she had encouraged toward the prize.

3. At Formiae in Campania, Saint Erasmus, bishop and martyr.

4. At Rome, near Saint Peter's, Saint Eugene, Pope, who succeeded Saint Martin the martyr.

5. At the Bosphorus in the Propontis, the passing of Saint Nicephorus, bishop of Constantinople, who, a most ardent defender of the traditions of the fathers, opposed the iconoclast emperor Leo the Armenian steadfastly for the veneration of sacred Images; from whom he was driven from his see and long exiled in a monastery, and with a calm spirit migrated to the Lord.

6. At Acqui Statielli in the Subalpine region, Saint Guido, bishop.
 7. At Trani in Apulia, Saint Nicholas, who, a pilgrim, born in Greece, traveled through the region carrying a cross in his hand and praying without ceasing: “Kyrie eleison.”
 8. At Sandomierz on the Vistula River in Poland, the blessed martyrs Sadok, priest, and companions from the Order of Preachers, who, as it is said, were killed by the Tartars while singing the antiphon “Salve Regina,” greeting the very Mother of Life in their final moments.
 9. In the city of Au Thi in Tonkin, of Saint Dominic Ninh, martyr, who, a young farmer, because he refused to trample upon the cross of the Savior, suffered under the emperor Tụ Đức, his neck having been cut.

June 3rd

This Day, the Third Day of June

Memorial of the Saints Charles Lwanga and twelve companions², who, born between fourteen and thirty years, either from the royal court of noble boys or assigned to the guard of King Mwanga himself, neophytes and vigorously adhering to the Catholic faith, when they had not wished to yield to the impure desires of the king, on the hill Namugongo in Uganda were partly killed by the sword, partly burned by fire.

2. At Carthage, Saint Caecilius, priest, who led Saint Cyprian to the faith of Christ.

3. At Carcassonne in Narbonese France, Saint Hilary, who is held to be the first bishop of this city, at which time the Goths were spreading the Arian heresy in this region.

4. At Tours in Lyon France, Saint Clotilde, Queen, at whose prayers her husband Clovis, king of the Franks, received the faith of Christ; she herself, after his death, withdrew piously to the basilica of Saint Martin, so that she might no longer be thought a queen, but rather a handmaid of God.

5. At Meung on the Loire in the territory of Orléans, likewise of France, Saint Lifard, priest, who there led a solitary life.

6. At Anagni in Campania, Saint Olivia, Virgin.

7. At Glendalough in Ireland, Saint Coemgen, abbot, who founded a monastery, in which he is held to have been the father and leader of many monks.

8. At Clermont in Aquitaine, Saint Genesius, bishop of Clermont, who was buried at Magnilocus in the church of the monastery founded by himself with a hospice.

9. At Córdoba in Vandalic Spain, Saint Isaac, martyr, who, a monk, under the power of the Moors, stirred not by human but by divine impulse, descending from the monastery of Tabanus into the forum, approached the judge, that he might contend with him about the true religion, for which he was condemned to death by beheading.

10. At Lucca in Etruria, Saint Davinus, who, Armenian by birth, having sold all goods, was a pilgrim for Christ and, after he had visited the holy places and the thresholds of the Apostles, is said to have died, afflicted by illness.

11. In the village Altkirch in the district of Basel of the Swiss, Saint Morandus, monk, who, born in the Rhineland, already a priest, went to Compostela and, returning from there, was made a monk at Cluny and founded a monastery, where he completed the course of a laborious life.

12. At Spello in Umbria, blessed Andrew Caccioli, who, the first priest numbered among the Friars Minor, received the habit of the Order from the hands of Saint Francis and stood by him as he died.

13. In the monastery of Saint Mary of Cadossa in Lucania, Saint Conus, monk, who, perfected in monastic conduct and innocence of life, in a short time, with God protecting, came to the summit of virtues.

14. At York in England, blessed Francis Ingleby, priest and martyr, who, an alumnus of the English College at Reims, under Queen Elizabeth the First, on account of the priesthood exercised in his homeland, was led to the punishment of the gallows.

15. At Jerez in Vandalic Spain, Saint John Grande, religious of the Order of Saint John of God, who, distinguished for charity toward captives, the abandoned, and those rejected by all, died, having himself been infected, while caring for those afflicted by plague.

16. At sea near Rochefort in Gallia, blessed Charles René Callas du Bignon, priest of the Society of Saint Sulpice and martyr, who, rector of the Minor Seminary of Bourges, with the French upheaval raging, because of the priesthood, was confined on a ship of servitude and, infected by verminous wounds, died.

17. In the city Au Thi in Tonkin, Saint Peter Dong, martyr, who, a father of a family, preferred to undergo immense tortures rather than trample the cross, and, when he had arranged to have inscribed on his face in place of the words “false religion” those words “true religion,” was beheaded under the emperor Tụ Đức.

18. In the village Bellegra in the Roman countryside, blessed Didacus (Joseph) Oddi, religious of the Order of Friars Minor, outstanding in prayer and simplicity of life.

19. At Rome, blessed John, Pope the Twenty-Third, who, imbued with singular humanity in life and works, with the greatest pastoral zeal strove to pour forth the abundance of Christian charity upon all and to cultivate the fraternal union of peoples and, especially concerned for the pastoral effectiveness of the Church of Christ throughout the whole world, convoked the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council.

June 4th

This Day, the Fourth Day of June

10. Near Munich of Bavaria in Germany, blessed Anthony Zawistowski, priest, and Stanislaus Starowieyski, martyrs, who, while war raged, within the detention camps of Dachau endured cruel torments for Christ and departed from earthly life.

June 5th

This Day, the Fifth Day of June

Memorial of Saint Boniface, bishop and martyr. When he was a monk, named Winfrid, having come from England to Rome, he was ordained bishop by Pope Saint Gregory II and, taking the name Boniface, was sent into Germany to announce the faith of Christ to those peoples. He gained great multitudes to the Christian religion and governed the see of Mainz. Finally, at Dokkum among the Frisians, struck down by the sword by raging pagans, he completed his martyrdom.

2. In Egypt, Saints Marcian, Nicander, Apollonius, and companions, martyrs, who, as is reported, on account of their confession of the Christian faith, after great tortures, were enclosed within a wall and exposed to the burning sun, and were destroyed by heat, thirst, and hunger.

3. At Tyre in Phoenicia, Saint Dorotheus, bishop, who, while he was still a priest, suffered many things under the emperor Diocletian, and, having survived until the time of Julian, and being in his one hundred and seventh year, is said, under him, to have honored his venerable old age with martyrdom in Thrace.

4. At Clermont in Aquitaine, Saint Illidius, bishop, who, summoned to Trier by the emperor in order to free his daughter from an unclean spirit, on his return, passed to the Lord.

5. At Como in Liguria, Saint Eucychius, bishop, distinguished for prayer and love of solitude with God.

6. At Dokkum among the Frisians, the Saints Eoban, bishop, Adelarius, and nine companions³, martyrs, who, with Saint Boniface, were crowned in that same glorious struggle of his.

7. At Córdoba in the region of Vandalicia in Spain, blessed Sancius, martyr, who, a youth, having been taken from the town of Albi and trained in the royal court, in the persecution of the Moors did not hesitate to suffer martyrdom for the faith of Christ.

8. Near Asserico in the Vestini region, Saint Franco, hermit, who built a small cell beneath the cliffs in a cave, and there led a harsh and austere life.

9. At Ciani near Mileto in Calabria, Saint Peter Spano, hermit, notable for poverty and compunction.

10. At Hanoi in Tonkin, Saint Luke Vil Ba Loan, priest and martyr, who was beheaded for Christ under the emperor Minh Mạng.

11. In the city of Tang Gia, likewise in Tonkin, the Saints Dominic Toai and Dominic Huyen, martyrs, who, being fathers of families and fishermen, under the emperor Tự Đức, although in prolonged imprisonment and tortured with various torments, nevertheless with all their spirit encouraged their fellow prisoners to keep the faith, and at last completed martyrdom by fire.

June 6th

This Day, the Sixth Day of June

Saint Norbert, bishop, who, austere in manner and wholly devoted to union with God and to the preaching of the Gospel, near Laon in France established the Order of Canons Regular of Prémontré, and, having become an outstanding pastor at Magdeburg in Saxony, reformed Christian life and strove to spread the faith to neighboring peoples.

In the village of Qianshengzhuang near the city of Liushuitao in the Hebei Province of China, Saint Joseph Ma Taishun, martyr, who, a physician and catechist, although during the persecution carried out by supporters of the “Yihetuan” sect the rest of his family defected from the faith, preferred to bear witness to Christ with his blood.

14. In the village of Jalisco of the Guadalajara territory in Mexico, Saint Joseph Mary Robles, priest and martyr, who, during the persecution against the Church in the time of the Mexican turmoil, was hanged from a tree and died.

15. In the forest of Birok near the city of Stradch in the district of Lviv in Ukraine, blessed Nicholas Konrad, priest, and Vladimir Pryjma, who, at a time of regimes hostile to God, through fearless death proclaimed the hope of the Resurrection of Christ.

16. In the village of Sykhiv likewise in the district of Lviv, blessed Andrew Iscak, priest and martyr, who in the same period was killed by bullets for the faith of Christ.

17. At Rome, Saint Joseph Mary Escriva de Balaguer, priest, who founded Opus Dei and the Priestly Society of the Holy Cross.

June 27th

This Day, the Twenty-seventh Day of June

Saint Cyril, bishop and doctor of the Church, who, having been elected to the Alexandrian see in Egypt, with singular zeal for the integrity of the Catholic faith, in the Council of Ephesus expounded the dogmas concerning the one and the same person in Christ and concerning the divine maternity of the Virgin Mary.

2. At Carthage, Saint Guddenes, martyr, who, by order of the proconsul Rufinus, was four times at different intervals tortured by the rack and by laceration with claws, and long afflicted also by the filth of prison, was finally struck down by the sword.

3. At Córdoba in Baetica, Spain, Saint Zoilus, martyr.

4. At Constantinople, Saint Samson, priest, receiver of the poor, who is said to have established a hospital at the urging of the emperor Justinian, whom he had healed from illness.

5. At the fortress Chinon in the district of Tours in France, Saint John, priest, who, of Breton race, keeping himself from the sight of men for the love of God, had a tiny Oratory cell before the village church.

6. At Milan in Lombardy, Saint Arialduis, deacon and martyr, who strongly opposed the depraved customs of simoniacal and corrupt clergy, and because of his zeal for the house of God, was killed with atrocious torments by two clerics.

7. At Corneto near Bovino in Apulia, blessed Benvenutus of Gubbio, religious of the Order of Friars Minor, who conformed himself to the life of Christ the poor man by humble service to the sick.

8. In the city of Nam Dinh in Tonkin, Saint Thomas Toan, martyr, who, as a catechist and caretaker of the Trung Linh Mission, suffered new and most savage torments in prison for Christ under the emperor Minh Mạng, and there died, worn out by hunger and thirst.

9. In the district of Fribourg in Switzerland, blessed Margaret Bays, virgin, who, practicing the craft of dressmaking within her family, devoted herself entirely to various services to her neighbor, never neglecting prayer.

10. At Moulins in France, blessed Ludovica Thérèse Montaignac de Chauvance, virgin, who founded the Pious Union of the Oblate Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

June 28th

This Day, the Twenty-eight Day of June

Memorial of Saint Irenaeus, bishop, who, as Saint Jerome writes, was from childhood a disciple of Saint Polycarp of Smyrna and faithfully preserved the memory of Apostolic times. Already a presbyter of Lyon, he succeeded Saint Pothinus as bishop, and it is said that he was also crowned with glorious martyrdom. He wrote much about Apostolic Tradition and also published outstanding books against heresies in defense of the Catholic faith.

2. At Alexandria in Egypt, under the emperor Septimius Severus, the holy martyrs Plutarch, Serenus, Heraclides the catechumen, Heron the neophyte, another Serenus, Herais the catechumen, Potamiana, and Marcella her mother, who were all illustrious disciples of Origen; some confessed Christ by the sword, others by fire. Among them especially stood out the virgin Potamiana, who first preserved innumerable struggles for her virginity and, at last, endured unheard-of torments for the faith and was consumed by fire together with her mother.

3. At Rome, Saint Paul I, pope, who was gentle and very merciful, and would go about silently at night among the cells of the poor and the sick, providing them with food. A defender of the orthodox faith, he wrote to the emperors Constantine and Leo, urging that sacred Images be restored to their former state of veneration. A zealous promoter of the cult of the saints, he removed the bodies of the martyrs from ruined cemeteries and, with hymns and chants, placed them within the city among the titular churches and monasteries, striving to honor them.

4. At Córdoba in the region of Andalusia in Spain, Saint Argimirus, martyr, a monk, who in the persecution by the Moors, when Muhammad II was reigning, though already advanced in age and ordered by a judge to deny Christ, remained steadfast in confessing the faith; placed alive on the rack and pierced with a sword, he was martyred.

5. At Hasungen in Hesse, Saint Heimerad, priest and hermit, who, having been cast out from his monastery and held in contempt and mocked by many, nevertheless journeyed far and wide for Christ.

6. At London in England, Saint John Southworth, priest and martyr, who, as he exercised the priesthood in England, suffered imprisonment and exile many times. Finally, under the regime of Oliver Cromwell, having been condemned to death, he exclaimed, upon seeing the gallows prepared at Tyburn, that he regarded the gibbet as the cross of Christ.

7. At Lovere in Lombardy, Saint Vincenza Gerosa, virgin, who together with Saint Bartolomea Capitanio founded the Institute of the Sisters of Charity.

8. In the village of Wanglajia near Dongguangxian in the province of Hebei in China, of the holy martyrs Lucia Wang Cheng, Maria Fan Kun, Qi Yu, and Maria Zheng Xu, girls who were raised in an orphanage and, during the persecution of the “Boxers,” with hands joined together, went joyfully as if to a wedding and died by the sword.

9. At the place Jieshuiwang near the city of Shenxian in the same province, of Saint Maria Du Zhaozhi, martyr, the mother of a priest, who, returning from flight and unwilling to betray the faith of Christ, calmly submitted her neck to the axe of the enemies.

10. In the city of Drohobych in Ukraine, the blessed Severian Baranyk and Joachim Senkivskyj, priests of the Order of Saint Josaphat and martyrs, who, in the persecution against the faith, became partakers of the victory of Christ through martyrdom.

June 29th

This Day, the Twenty-ninth Day of June

Solemnity of the holy Apostles Peter and Paul. Simon, the son of Jonah and the brother of Andrew, was the first among the disciples to confess Jesus as the Christ, the Son of the living God, and by Him was called Peter. Paul, however, the Apostle of the Gentiles, preached Christ crucified to both Jews and Greeks. Both in the faith and love of Jesus Christ announced the Gospel in the city of Rome and under the emperor Nero suffered martyrdom: the former, as tradition holds, having been affixed to the cross with his head turned downward and buried in the Vatican near the Via Triumphalis; the latter, struck down with the sword and confessed [Christ] on the Via Ostiensis. The entire world celebrates their triumph on this day with equal honor and veneration.

2. At Genoa in Liguria, Saint Syrus, who is venerated as a bishop.

3. At Narni in Umbria, Saint Cassius, bishop, who, as Saint Gregory the Great relates, offered daily to God sacrifices of atonement, pouring forth entirely in tears, and gave away all that he had as alms. Finally, on the natal day of the Apostles — on which he was accustomed each year to go to Rome —after having celebrated the solemn Masses in his own city and administered the Body of the Lord to all, he passed to the Lord.

4. At Gurk in Carinthia, Saint Hemma, who, as a countess, lived forty years in widowhood and gave great wealth to the poor and to the Church.

5. In the strait of the sea facing the island of Majorca, blessed Raymond Lull, religious of the Third Order of Saint Francis and martyr, who, a man of outstanding learning and enlightened doctrine, established a fraternal dialogue with the Saracens for the spreading of the Gospel of Christ.

6. In the village Xiaoliyi near Shenxian in the Hebei Province of China, the holy martyrs Paul Wu Juan and his son John Baptist Wu Mantang and grandson Paul Wu Wanshu, who, in the persecution of the followers of the “Yihetuan,” having confessed themselves to be Christians, merited to be crowned together with martyrdom.

7. In the village Dujiadun also near Shenxian, the holy martyrs Mary Du Tianshi and her daughter Magdalene Du Fengju, who, in the same persecution, having been taken from the reed thicket where they had hidden themselves, perished on account of the Christian name; the latter, still breathing, was thrown into the grave.

June 30th

This Day, the Thirtieth Day of June

Holy protomartyrs of the Holy Roman Church, who, having been accused of the burning of the City, were ordered by the most savage emperor Nero to be killed by various torments; for some, indeed, covered with the skins of wild beasts, were exposed to the tearing of dogs; others were fixed to crosses, and others were delivered to fire, so that, when the day had ended, they might serve as nocturnal lights. All these were disciples of the Apostles and the first fruits of the martyrs which the Roman Church sent to the Lord.

2. At Alexandria in Egypt, Saint Basilides, who, under the emperor Septimius Severus, when he had protected the holy virgin Potamiana — whom he was leading to execution — from the insolence of shameless men, received the reward of a religious act; for he himself, converted to Christ by her prayers, and contending in a brief struggle, was made a glorious martyr.

3. At Limoges in Aquitaine, Saint Martial, bishop.

4. At Cenomani in Neustria, Saint Bertechramnus, bishop, a peaceful pastor attentive to the poor and to monks.
5. At Salzburg in Bavaria, Saint Erentrude, first abbess of the monastery of Nonnberg and niece of Saint Rupert, whose preaching she aided with prayer and labor.
6. At Salanica in the territory of Vicenza, of Saint Theobald, priest and hermit, who, from the counts of French Champagne, with his friend Walter, preferred pilgrimages for Christ, poverty, and solitude to honors and riches.
7. At Nitra near the river Váh among the Carpathian mountains, the passing of Saint Ladislaus, king of Hungary, who, in his domain, restored the Christian laws issued by Saint Stephen, reformed morals, giving examples of virtue himself, and worked strenuously for the propagation of the Christian faith in Croatia, which was joined to the Hungarian kingdom, and founded the episcopal see of Zagreb. But while he was waging war against the Bohemians, he died, and his body was later placed at Varad in Transylvania.
8. At Bamberg in Franconia, Saint Otto, bishop, who evangelized the Pomeranians with the greatest zeal.
9. At Osnabrück in Saxony, Saint Adolph, bishop, who adopted Cistercian customs in the monastery of Altenkamp.
10. At London in England, blessed Philip Powell, priest of the Order of Saint Benedict and martyr, who, Welsh by birth, was captured on a ship under King Charles I because he was a priest and was heading for England; he was led to Tyburn to the torture of the gibbet.

11. At Naples in Campania, blessed Januarius Maria Sarnelli, priest of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer, who actively devoted himself to assisting every type of unfortunate person.

12. In the city of Hdi Duding in Tonkin, Saint Vincent Do Yen, priest of the Order of Preachers and martyr, who, under the emperor Minh Mạng, perished by beheading out of hatred for the Christian faith.

13. In the village of Chendun near Jiaobei in the Province of Hebei in China, the Saints Raymond Li Quanzhen and Peter Li Quanhui, martyrs, who, as brothers, gave outstanding witness to Christ during the persecution carried out by the supporters of the “Yihetuan” sect: for the former, having been led to a pagan temple, refused to venerate fictitious gods and, having been beaten, died; and the latter, was killed with no less cruelty.

14. At Lviv in Ukraine, the commemoration blessed Zenon Kovalyk, priest of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer and martyr, who, in a time of a regime hostile to God, on an unknown day of this month, merited to receive the glorious palm.

15. At Winnipeg in the Province of Manitoba in Canada, blessed Basil Velyckovskyj, bishop of the Greek Catholic Church of Ukraine and martyr, who, on account of his clandestine ministry exercised among the Catholic faithful of the Byzantine Rite, endured many cruel sufferings from the persecutors of the faith in his homeland, and, having been united with the sacrifice of Christ, died in exile.
